Singapore School Kinderland
Primary-6
IT (Information Technology)
Term 1

Class Test-1 (Chapter 1: MS Access 2010 — Database Basics)

Date: _____ Name: _____

Total marks: 15 Marks obtained: _____

Teacher's signature: _____ Parent's signature: _____

Question 1: Fill in the Blanks with the Correct Words [Total: 4 marks]

Textbook Reference: Chapter 1: Pages 1–2

Words: [DBMS | Database | Record | Field]

(a) A _____ is an integrated collection of logically-related records stored in tables.

(b) A _____ is a set of computer programs that controls the creation and use of a database.

(c) A _____ is one row arranged horizontally in a table that includes complete information.

(d) A _____ is a column arranged vertically in a table that stores data of the same type.

Question 2: State True or False [Total: 4 marks]

Textbook Reference: Chapter 1: Pages 1–2

(a) Microsoft Access is a popular database program used to store and manage information. [ ]

(b) A field is arranged horizontally in a database table. [ ]

(c) A school database can contain multiple tables like Student, Library, and Staff. [ ]

(d) FoxPro and FoxBASE are examples of DBMS software. [ ]

Question 3: Match the Terms with their Meanings [Total: 3 marks]

Textbook Reference: Chapter 1: Page 2

Column A (Term)	Column B (Meaning)	Answer
1. Database	A. Vertical column storing the same type of data	1 ➔ ( )
2. Record	B. Collection of logically-related records in tables	2 ➔ ( )
3. Field	C. Horizontal row containing complete information	3 ➔ ( )

Question 4: Short Answer Questions [Total: 4 marks]

Textbook Reference: Chapter 1: Pages 1–2

(a) Name any two popular DBMS software programs.

_____

_____

(b) Look at a School Database. Give two examples of Fields that can be used in a Student table to store student information.

_____

_____